

WorkSafeBC Pain Journal Template

Worker-controlled notes for appointments and claim-related discussions

Use this template to record pain, functional limits, medication notes, work impact, and questions while details are fresh. It is a personal note aid, not medical advice, legal advice, or an official WorkSafeBC form. PainTracker.ca is not affiliated with, endorsed by, or connected to WorkSafeBC.

Worker name
Optional claim number
Injury date
Employer / job title
Main affected body areas
Primary appointment contact

Safe sharing checklist

☐	I reviewed this page before sharing it.
☐	I removed details that are not relevant to the conversation.
☐	I understand this is self-reported context, not a medical record or official form.
☐	I kept my own copy before giving a copy to anyone else.

Privacy note: Routine PainTracker.ca records stay on the user device by default. Exports are deliberate user actions.

Daily Pain and Work-Impact Log

Use one row per check-in. Short notes are acceptable. Keep the wording concrete and dated.

Date / time	Pain 0-10	Location / quality	Work or daily task affected	What helped / changed

Prompt: Include better days too. Variation can make the pattern easier to understand later.

Functional Capacity Notes

Record tolerances in concrete terms. Avoid guessing what the note means later.

Activity	Current tolerance	When the limit is reached	Notes for appointment
Sitting
Standing
Walking
Lifting / carrying
Driving / transit
Concentration / focus
Sleep / recovery
Self-care / household

Example: "Can sit 20 minutes before pain rises to 6/10; needs to stand or lie down afterward."

Treatment, Medication, and Side-Effect Notes

Use this page to keep appointment and medication details together. Record perceived effects without treating them as medical conclusions.

Date	Care step	Dose/details	Perceived effect	Side effects / questions

Do not stop or change medication based on this sheet. Use it to prepare questions for a qualified clinician.

Weekly Work and Function Summary

Summarize the week so a reviewer or clinician can see the pattern quickly without reading every daily row.

Week starting
Work days completed
Work days missed or shortened
Modified duties or accommodations used
Tasks that increased symptoms
Tasks that were manageable
Most useful treatment or pacing strategy
Questions for next appointment

Pain range this week	Lowest: ____ /10	Highest: ____ /10	Typical: ____ /10
Function range this week	Better days:	Harder days:	Notes:

Monthly Review and Share-Only-If-Useful Summary

Complete this page before an appointment, review conversation, or export. Keep a copy for yourself.

Month / date range
Most common pain locations
Main functional limits
Changes since last month
Work impact summary
Treatment or medication questions
What I want the appointment to address
What I chose not to share

Reminder before sharing

This template is worker-provided context. It does not guarantee any claim, treatment, accommodation, rating, or coverage outcome. Outcomes depend on the reviewer, medical records, policy, and case context. Ask a clinician, advocate, or legal representative for case-specific guidance.